“ Walt (Mr. K), was the father to my best friend Wally. He was a quiet guy with with a dry sense of humor. I liked his style. He would crack on me in a light hearted way that made me fell accepted. Like the phone would ring at the house while I was there and he said "well I don't know who could be calling, cause Chris is here". He used to pick my brain with math equations and riddles. I liked the moments we had, he didn't ignore me, like most parents would. I loved hanging out in the basement and grabbing one of those pepsis from the fridge...when offered. I bowled with him and he was so steady. Good shot or bad (rarely) he stayed the same temperature, cool. When he bowled I used to say his follow threw was like posing for a trophy, always precise. He was like that in all things like golf as well. I suppose that came from his craft as a carpenter. His perfectionism was engrained in Wally, although he won't admit it. His wife (Irene - Mrs. K) is as sweet a woman as you'll ever find. They were the best neighborhood parents that a kid could ask for. Walt's legacy is his beautiful family. Debbie and Barb are a credit to his Fatherhood, and Wally is my brother. I love the Krawczyks. Well done Walt, Thank You! Enjoy heaven, see you when I get there. Chris (Gib) Gilbert
